THE ONE ALTERATION

If it is still the purpose of the imperial government to promote the peaceful and indiscriminate use of the use of submarines without regard to what the government of the United States might consider sacred and indispensible rules of international law and the recognized dictates of humanity, the government of the United States at last forced to the conclusion that there is but one course to pursue. "Not Our Duty to Obey Rules," Says Sherman

WASHINGTON, BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 19.—Mr. Wilson's address on the German situation did not meet the degree of approval and which he expected from the Control buildings when the President and Senators from the Alleghenies declared down was entirely uncalled for the present circumstances to precipitate war with Germany. Senators and Congressmen from the Atlantic seaboard and the President's remarks of them privately expressed that Mr. Wilson has a determination to break with the allies in the war and to sever the war before the Minority Leader Mann of Ohio. Mr. Wilson's severance was EXCORIATED BY MANY. His address, said the hypocritical, wholly pro-

"I think we have just overcome Germany and equalized the world," he said. "I don't see how we can do anything by breaking relations with Germany. It is up to us, at sea, unless the United States is to lead us to war. I think that is exactly what we are doing. The American resolution was to ignore it and I believe we have done that. There was no reason for me to make his speech. I wanted to get us in, and I think we have done it. The press instead of taking me here, for apparently they were to tell us of it."

SENATOR SHERMAN'S VICE PRESIDENT HERMAN OF ILLINOIS

"I should vote against a resolution on any subject as those containing such a President as far as his action is concerned. It is not our duty to be for belligerents."

"I get the impression from imperfectly heard that no one has been able to get a definite plan until there are representatives from England, France and Germany. The President has the power to get information as to the situation and to get with Germany. The President has the sole power to make peace. If he chooses to serve the peace of Germany. Really, as a man of his own individual judgment."

(e.) No warning was given, no attempt was made to give since it is not mentioned.

Denise collected some information on the ship, but no warning was given. The ship was seen by the commander of the dam, and the torpedoed does not appear to be the same ship as the photograph of the ship in London Graphic.

COMMENT.

Department's command sketch apparently is a memory of an observation of vessel through a periscope. It only differences noted by the commander, who relied on the position of the ship in the stack and the shape of the hull to be presumed the vessel was similar to other vessels.

(c) No other information on that day arrived in that locality.

Department's command sketch is reported to have been peddled within the command area, and submarine other than Sumner, it is beyond question that vessel was torpedoed by submarine within the command area, which relied upon in the April 10.

the soup of the epieure The epicure out-of-doors

Your outing may be attended by all the culinary arts and graces—if you take with you Franco-American Soups.

This is the soup par excellence of the epicure. It is cooking at its highest phase. Only the choicest of the choice ingredients are used and these are so delicately seasoned and proportioned that the result is a dish to satisfy a king.

The fact that you may enjoy such culinary refinements as these when you are roughing it indicates also the convenience of Franco-American Soups. They are the finished products of a past master in French cooking. Any further preparation, except the heating, would only dull the edge of their French perfection.

If you count good food one of the chief pleasures of life, you will requisition your grocer for "Franco-American."

GERMANY TO ACCEDE TO WILSON'S DEMANDS.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
WASHINGTON, April 19.—Germany will meet the demands made in the President's note, it was stated tonight by an official in close touch with the embassy, "though she believes the United States is not justified in making them."
The German view here is that the note merely demands that Germany make her submarine policy conform to the accepted principles of international law, and not that she abandon submarine warfare altogether. It is urged in all that the President could possibly ask, and this Germany is willing to do. Germans here expect that their government's announcement will be delayed at least ten days.

Make Your Body Tingle with life and energy for the day's work by eating foods that contain real nutriment—that do not use up all the vitality of the body in an effort to digest them. Shredded Wheat Biscuit supplies the greatest amount of body-building, energy-creating material with the least tax upon the digestive organs. It is a real whole wheat food, ready-cooked and ready-to-serve, containing the life of the wheat grain, nothing added, nothing taken away. Start the day right by eating Shredded Wheat with hot or cold milk. Serve it for luncheon with sliced bananas or other fruits. Made at Niagara Falls, N. Y.

NEW YORK, April 19.—Wolfe von Igel, will not be released from custody and only a part of the documents seized at the time of his arrest on a charge of being implicated in a plot to destroy the Wellfleet, will be returned to the German embassy, United States Attorney Marshall announced tonight. His statement was made in explanation of the latest phase of the tangle which followed the arrest of the former secretary to the German embassy, Capt. Franz von Papen, recalled German military attache, who now is arrested yesterday in New York on an indictment charging him with conspiring to blow up the Wellfleet and the German Ambassador's request that Von Igel be released.

Further Concessions in Law by Vessel Companies.
[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]
SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 19.—Differences between shipowners here and employed on their vessels in regard to wages are to be considered at a joint conference of the owners and union men in the offices of the Ship Owners' Association of the Pacific Coast Saturday night. It is expected an agreement will be reached between the parties and there will be no interruption in shipping in and out of this port, according to statements from both sides.
Forty ship owners or their representatives met here today to discuss the new scale of wages submitted by the union. George S. Baker, president of the Ship Owners' Association, presided, and a committee of three, S. M. Hauptmann of McCormick Company, J. K. Nason of the Nelson interests, and J. Freeman of the Freeman line, were appointed to meet with a committee of the employees and confer Monday.
NO GREAT OPPOSITION.
According to unofficial information from the meeting it was the opinion of the shipping men that while some opposition would be met with the general trend of the scale, but that one or two items were excessive.
Patrick Flynn, secretary of the Marine Firemen, Oilers and Water-tenders' Union of the Pacific, said last evening that there could be no opposition from the union side. Three union-labor organizations confer with the ship owners. The appointments will be made tomorrow.
There were wage increases met by three different organizations in the oil business last week, and they are in line with the demands made New York three days ago on men employed about to leave for Europe. Sailors, watchmen, and carpenters and stationmen were $11 per month with a nine-hour day, watchmen and one night off, an increase of $5 per month. Boatmen and carpenters were $40 monthly, an increase of $5.
In the engine-room there is a rate of $10 monthly for men, water-tenders, oilers and wipers, an increase of $10 monthly over the lowest paid.
STEWARDS AND COOKS.
The increase for stewards and cooks ranges from $10 to $15 per month, making regular pay of $15 and a raise of from $10 to $15 for cabin and galley men, with a wage of $45 monthly, 40 cents an hour overtime instead of 25 cents, and three men in the steerage instead of two.
Sailors on windjammer boats including Hawaii and Mexico, are to receive $50 monthly, and on shore $40 per month, under the scale presented the other day.
CONGRESSIONAL INQUIRY.
[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]
NEW YORK, April 19.—Port concessions are said to have been made here today by officials of the steamship companies to union men who are demanding lower wages and who claim that the men of a security of available work. The men they are virtually in control of the situation.
The seamen employed on the steamship Caracra of the Red Line refused to continue work until shortly before the Caracra sailed for West India ports, but the differences between the men had been settled by a decision to increase wages from $35 to $45 per month.
SUIT TO TEST CLAYTON ACT.
[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]
WASHINGTON, April 19.—Federal Trade Commission today issued a formal complaint today against the A. B. Dick Company of Chicago and the Neotype Company of New York, an allied concern, manufacturing mimeographing machines and other office equipment. The complaint charges that the companies are violating the Clayton act, which prohibits the use of such machines in the sale of goods.
The complaint alleges that the companies attached to their machines restrictions providing that the machines shall be sold only to companies that intend to use them for the purpose of making copies of documents. The restriction is said to be a violation of the Clayton act, which prohibits the use of such machines in the sale of goods.
The complaint also alleges that the companies are using the Clayton act as a pretext to prevent the sale of their machines to other companies. The complaint is said to be the first of its kind.
WATER RUMOR.
[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]
SAN FRANCISCO, April 19.—The rumor that the water supply of the city is being cut off is said to be unfounded. The water supply is said to be sufficient for the needs of the city.

VILLA'S BODY SEEN.
Villa's body is being carried on a brushwood stretcher to Cuahuahua-chic by four soldiers, according to Mexican rancheros who arrived there Monday. They say they passed Gen. Carranza's troops with the body the night before forty-two miles out. Progress was slow, they said, as the trail in the mountains was rough. Carranza troops left three days ago with Col. Pedraza, wounded Villa follower, who was treated here. Nine Villa officers were shot.
MEXICO DECISION IS IN ABEYANCE.
[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]
WASHINGTON, April 19.—No decision as to the withdrawal of American troops from Mexico is expected for a week or ten days, unless there are new outbreaks against the forces in Mexico to compel immediate action. This was made clear today when Secretary Baker dispatched Maj. Gen. Hugh L. Scott, Chief of Staff, to the border as his personal representative to make a complete report on the military situation to Gen. Funston.
The administration's final action on Gen. Carranza's suggestion that the expedition be recalled probably will be based largely on what is shown in this report. Gen. Scott, who left Washington tonight, hardly will be able to make the round trip and complete his observations in less than ten days.
Secretary Baker said Gen. Scott's mission would be to assemble complete information as to the border situation for the use of the department.
EYES OF THE SECRETARY.
Gen. Scott himself explained that he would be "the eyes of the Secretary" on the border. He is accompanied by his aide, Lieut. Col. Robert E. L. Michie of the General Staff, who will reach Gen. Funston's headquarters at San Antonio, Tex., next Friday evening.
In the meantime State Department officials will take up consideration of what reply they should make to the Carranza note urging the withdrawal of the American troops. The question is being discussed in the State Department today. It is noted that the military situation finally is reported.
Despatches from the border or from Mexico today contained no word of developments changing the situation. The expedition seeking Villa is at a standstill apparently.
REASSURING MESSAGES.
The only messages received, the substance of which was made public, were of a reassuring nature. A consular dispatch said Gen. Pershing's desire to change the location of his most advanced base near Parral had met with no opposition by the Carranza military authorities. Gen. Pershing is understood to have desired to establish his new base at such a point that communication with the rear would be less difficult.
State Department officials pointed out that while the situation is new, it is not a new one. It was said to be nearer than the old one to Parral, the town where the American forces first upon Carranza soldiers or civilians.
State Department reports from Chihuahua told of the movement of Carranza troops from the town toward Parral. No explanation was given. It was pointed out here, however, that the forces were under the direct command of Gen. Gutierrez, whose friendliness to the Americans has been consistent. Some officials thought it possible the Carranza commander intended to replace the Parral forces said to have been involved in the attack on the border would have in which he had no confidence.
NO DIPLOMATIC CHANGE.
There was no change during the day in the diplomatic situation. No communications from Mexico City to the State Department either from Special Agent Rodgers or through Eliseo Arredondo.
An indication of the intention of the War Department to retain the present forces on the border indefinitely regardless of whether the Carranza forces are recalled, came in a call of Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, commanding the Department of the East, on Secretary Baker. The general was asked to come in order that Secretary Baker might be informed of the effect upon the summer training camp of the continued absence of the forces now on the border would have.
He said a plan would be worked out under which the camps could be held as outlined by employing Coast Artillery troops to some extent in the training work. Gen. Wood expects to have from 10,000 to 15,000 men under arms for training purposes during the year. The Secretary Baker manifested deep interest in this movement.
Reports from Gen. Funston today indicated that the aviators with Gen. Pershing were badly in need of new machines.
MEXICAN ADVICES.
The Mexican embassy gave out a dispatch today from Mexico City stating that Gen. Dominguez Arrieta had reported to the War Office there, disapproving rumors published in the United States that was not loyal to the de facto government. In connection with the reported death of Villa the message said:
"Gen. Obregon is wired for the promptest confirmatory report regarding Villa's death from the search party, consisting of two Mexicans and one American officer, who are returning from the examination of the bandit's reputed grave. The Minister of War expresses his confidence in the aged man and woman who claim to have nursed Villa in his dying hours, and to have buried him."
Neither the State nor the War Department had any additional report regarding Villa's death, nor anything to show who the American officer mentioned in the embassy dispatch might be. The report of Villa's death seemed a closed incident in both departments.
BURGERS ROB CHURCH.
[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]
SAN FRANCISCO, April 19.—Burglars broke into Trinity Episcopal Church early today, stole a set of communion vessels belonging to the Rev. Walter B. Clark, curate, and drank the supply of communion wine. Their efforts to break open the church safe to get the rector's communion set were thwarted.

Chacon's Band Near Parral Dispersed by Santos.
[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]
TORREON (Mex.) April 18 (via El Paso Junction, April 19).—Carranza troops were employed today in dispersing crowds that had gathered for an anti-American demonstration. Proclamations had been issued in Torreón, Laredo and Gomez Palacio to discuss steps to be taken against the American invaders.
British Vice-Consul O'Hara promptly reported the circumstances to Gen. Trevino, who immediately took command of the situation.
The proclamations calling for the meeting ended with the words: "Viva Mexico and death to the gringos."
Gen. Santos from Parral reports he has dispersed Chacon's band. He said last Sunday Chacon killed Simon Reyes and Reyes's son in a dispute.
The Laguna district around San Pedro has been cleared of bandits, Gen. Matias Ramos says.
A movement of Carranza troops, which have been stationed near Chihuahua, to Parral, was reported today to the State Department.
MORE SOLDIERS FOR THE BORDER.
[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]
SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) April 19.—Gen. Funston today is awaiting advice from the War Department regarding the troops that will be sent to replace the 2300 ordered for duty along the border. The troops to be sent are under the command of Gen. Pershing's command in Mexico.
The only available regiments for such service are the Second Cavalry, Fort Ethan Allen, Vermont; Third Infantry, Madison Barracks, and Fort Ethan Allen, Vermont; Third Infantry, Plattsburg Barracks, N. Y.
The Sixth Cavalry at Hartigan and the Seventeenth Infantry at Eagle Pass are under consideration for move to Columbus as soon as the necessary rolling stock can be secured.

BASIS FOR PEACE FRAMED BY FORD.
[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]
STOCKHOLM, April 19.—Setting forth the principle that no transfer of territory should take place without the consent of the population involved, an appeal issued by the Henry Ford Peace Conference (the neutral conference for continuous mediation) to the governments and parliaments and peoples of the belligerent powers, asks that they adhere to this and other principles and measures suggested as a basis for ending the war and preventing a recurrence of hostilities.
The appeal asks the restoration of Belgium, the return of the occupied French territory; a reconsideration of the Alsace-Lorraine question; assurance of independence of Serbia and Montenegro; union of the Polish nation as an independent people; adjustment of the frontiers between Austria and Italy as far as possible on the principle of nationality, and the solution of various national questions in the Balkans and Turkey and autonomy for Armenia by international agreement.
The internationalization of the Dardanelles and the Bosphorus; the return of the German colonies and assurance of access to the near East for Germany, are other measures urged.
To bring about the "creation of an international order of justice," the necessity for a world congress of both belligerents and neutrals, is asserted, with an international organization including an agreement to submit all disputes between nations for peaceful settlement, together with disarmament.
The freedom of the seas and Parliamentary control of foreign policy also should be provided for, the appeal asserts.
NEBRASKA VOTES FOR HENRY FORD.
[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]
OMAHA (Nebr.) April 19.—Henry Ford has received the preferential vote of Nebraska Republicans, according to the returns received up to noon today, with Cummins and Hughes following and nearly tied. All of the men elected as delegates at large to the Republican National Convention personally favor Hughes.
William J. Bryan, candidate for delegate at large to the Democratic National Convention, polled the lowest vote of the seven men running in this (Douglas) county, and is apparently fourth in the race in Lancaster (Lincoln), his home county.
The name of Justice Hughes was written on the ballots by the voters. Senator Hitchcock's renomination was indicated by the largest plurality for any candidate except the Democratic aspirant for Governor.
Former Secretary of State, in the campaign in behalf of his brother, Mayor C. W. Bryan of Lincoln, for the gubernatorial nomination, and the former Secretary's opposition to the renomination of Senator Hitchcock was the most sensational feature of the campaign.

THE WEATHER ELSEWHERE.
Rain plentiful in Central States, with snow in North Dakota.
[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]
CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 19.—Rains were plentiful and general today over the East Central and West Central States, but the East was dry and slightly cooler. Temperatures ranged high for the season in the Middle West despite the rains. Chicago's maximum was 75 deg. and minimum 44 deg. The Ohio Valley was 6 deg. above these figures. North Dakota and Western Canada, Missouri and Iowa were 10 deg. above the Chicago figures.

UNION LEADER UNDER ARREST.
Chicago Printer is Accused of Embezzling Funds.
Says Being "Good Fellow" Caused His Downfall.
[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]
CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 19.—Joseph H. McKee, No. 3343 Polk street, assistant secretary of Chicago Typographical Union No. 16 for three years, was arrested today and taken to the detective bureau on a charge of embezzlement, on complaint of Michael Colbert, secretary-treasurer of the union. A shortage of about $1000 has been discovered, it is alleged.
McKee refused to admit that he had misused any of the funds. When asked if he admitted the charge he said: "I'm not going to incriminate myself. I don't know what the audit will show or what my chances will be."
Asked what cause he could assign for his trouble, he said: "Being a good fellow."
Secretary Colbert refused to talk of the alleged shortage or the arrest of McKee.
The union has 4500 members and collects in dues $100,000 annually, some of which passed through McKee's hands.

THE CITY AND ENVIRONS. EVENTS BRIEFLY TOLD

To Have Joint Meeting.

Barrett-Logan Post, No. 4, G.A.R., and its relief corps will hold a joint open meeting, Saturday evening, in Patriotic Hall, Hall of Records.

Chorus to Sing.

Alfred R. Gault's "Patriotic Service" will be sung by the Los Angeles County Christian Endeavor chorus at 8 o'clock tonight in the Bible Institute auditorium. No admission will be charged.

Will Study Lesson.

Dr. R. A. Hadden will meet Sunday-school teachers and Bible students at 7:40 o'clock tomorrow evening in room 501, Y.M.C.A. Building, to consider the lesson for the following Sunday. Men and women are invited.

Old-time Medicine Show.

Juanita Council No. 1514, Knights and Ladies of Security, will give an "old time medicine show," in Stephenston Hall, No. 429 1/2, South Spring street, tomorrow night, with musical numbers, and a dance to follow.

Umb Hennen.

All persons, in Los Angeles who have ever lived in Utah are invited to attend the Utah reunion in the Times assembly-room at 8 o'clock next Monday evening. The programme will include musical numbers, readings, dancing and refreshments.

Like Mother Made.

Strawberry shortcake, like mother used to make, is promised as the big item of the menu of the dinner that will be served at noon tomorrow, in Patriotic Hall, Hall of Records, by the Los Angeles County Christian Endeavor Society of the Woman's Relief Corps, No. 16.

Long Bicycle Trip.

Charles W. Wagland and Alfred R. Wackerson are to leave this morning on their bicycles for New York, and they propose to ride all the way, having started from San Francisco April 10. They arrived here Sunday and rested in this city before beginning the next leg of their journey.

"Twilight Sleep" Pictures.

Under auspices of the Western Motherhood Educational Society, Miss Maudie Robinson, the local representative, is giving two showings daily, at 1 and 3 o'clock, in the Walker Auditorium, of the "Twilight Sleep" films. The society has in progress a campaign to establish municipal twilight sleep hospitals in every large city.

Circean Club Election.

At the luncheon of the Circean Club at Hotel Clark today results of the recent primary election will be announced. Candidates for the position of president are J. A. Cattell, J. T. Mole, F. R. Feltshank, W. F. Jantzen, J. W. Costello and C. R. Griffin. F. H. Ackerman will preside at today's luncheon.

State's President Coming.

President Arthur T. Hadley of Yale University is to speak before the Yale Club at dinner next Saturday. He will arrive on the Santa Fe train at noon on Saturday and will be a guest at the Alexandria. He is a member of the Advisory Committee of university presidents of the Military Training Camp Association.

From Mrs. Wilson.

A beautifully hand-embroidered handkerchief has been received from Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, wife of the President, by the Los Angeles County Relief Association for the bazaar to be held May 1 to 7. Merchants of the city are lending aid to the bazaar. The proceeds will be applied to support of the charitable work of the association.

Offers Reward.

While riding on a Venice Short Line car last Sunday afternoon Miss Blanche Henry of No. 519 South Mariposa street lost a twenty-two-pearl platinum chain, a small gold watch and a watch box set with Chinese jade. Miss Henry states the loss is greater than she can make good, and will pay a liberal reward to the finder of the articles if returned to her. The phone number is 16672.

State of Maine Meeting.

"Myths and Legends of Maine" is the topic to be presented by Mrs. Florence Collins Porter before the Fine Arts Association of Los Angeles Friday evening, April 28, in the Y.W.C.A. Building, No. 251 South Hill street. Music and readings, and a social hour are also interesting features of the entertainment as planned by the Aroostook county people. All former residents of the state of Maine and friends are welcome. Beautiful badges have been prepared for those eligible to membership in the organization.

GRANDPA DIDN'T NEED CASCARETS FOR THE BOWELS

Two hours a day saving wood will keep liver and bowels right.

You who take exercise in an easy chair must take
"Cascarets."

Enjoy life—feel better! Don't stay sick, bilious, headachy, constipated. Remove the liver and bowel poison which is keeping your head dizzy, your tongue coated, your breath offensive, stomach sour and your body full of cold. Why don't you get a 10 or 25-cent box of Cascarets at the drug store and enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced. Cascarets work while you sleep. You will wake up feeling fit and fine. Children need this candy cathartic, too.

Flying.

READY FOR SERVICE.

Young Canadian Qualifying in Local Aviation School Will Go to Europe to Offer for Duty in Aerial Corps of the English Army.

G. R. Halliday, a young Canadian, who has been studying aviation for several months at the Burns Aviation School at Griffith Park, announced yesterday, after completing the final examinations of his course and making the three difficult flights required to qualify him as an expert aviator, that he will leave Los Angeles this week for England, where he expects to join one of the army aerial corps.

Mr. Halliday, who is 22 years old, came to this city from his home in Victoria, B. C., to study aviation. His flights yesterday were made in the presence of Frank R. Seabers, a government observer, who passes on the qualifications of the students at the local aviation schools.

PROXIMO CLUB LUNCHEON.

Dr. G. D. Ballou will address the members of the Proximo Club at their weekly luncheon, on the "Assurances of Life," at the Broadway Department Store Cafe, at 12 o'clock noon tomorrow. W. L. Watts, president of the club, will preside.

Today's Aid to Beauty

An especially fine shampoo for this weather, one that dissolves and ef-fectly removes all dandruff, excess oil and dirt, can easily be made at trifling expense by simply dissolving a teaspoonful of canthox in a cup of hot water. Pour slowly on scalp and massage briskly. This creates a soothing, cooling, lather. Rinsing leaves the scalp spotlessly clean, soft and pliant, while the hair takes on the glossy richness of natural color, also a fluffiness which makes it seem much heavier than it is. After a canthox shampoo arranging the hair is a pleasure.

RELATE CAREER AS DYNAMITERS.

Caplan Jury Hears Confession of "McManigal of East."

Ironworker also Discloses His Part in Conspiracy.

Prison Signatures Objected to by the Defense.

George E. Davis, arch dynamiter, who has confessed to thirteen "jobs," and known as "The McManigal of the East," furnished many thrills for the jury in the Caplan trial during the three hours he was on the witness stand yesterday. Exhibiting a most remarkable memory, Davis related to the minutest details the story of his criminal career and Attorney Coghlan of counsel for the defense was unable to shake his testimony in any particular.

Looking the jurors squarely in the eyes, Davis unfolded an astounding tale. He was attired in a natty suit of black, smooth shaven and looked like neither a dynamiter nor a man who lives by the sweat of his brow. To the casual observer, he was more the picture of a prosperous business man.

The story began with his activities along the Atlantic Coast in 1907, when he was the only dynamiter of consequence in the employ of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Ironworkers. Frank C. Webb, a member of the executive board of the association, was the cause of his downfall, according to Davis.

FEARS PERILS OF POLITICS.

Proposed Charter is Opposed by R. F. Del Valle.

Changes Threaten Injury to Public Service.

One-man Power not to City's Best Interest.

Fearing that the new charter might engulf the water department in politics, R. F. Del Valle, president of the Public Service Commission, voiced his objection to it at a meeting of the Joint Charter Committee of the Chamber of Commerce and the Board of Public Works, in the room at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon. Mr. Del Valle dealt particularly with the sections of the charter relating to the Department of Public Service.

OPPOSES CHANGE.

William Mulholland, superintendent of the water department, gave his reasons for believing that the department should continue to be conducted as it is now, and not as proposed by the new charter. T. E. Gibson, George Dunlop and Doyle Workman, a member of the Public Service Commission, spoke in favor of the changes suggested by the freeholders. No action was taken by the joint committee.

Mr. Del Valle said the proposed new system in the Public Service Department, especially putting it under one manager or director, was inadvisable. "It has been proved for years that the present system is a successful mode of managing this department, and it would be inadvisable, especially at this time, to change what has proved so successful," he said.

PROVED ITS MERITS.

He called attention to the fact that the commission was composed of men selected at different times for different terms, thus always keeping the men posted in that branch of the city's business. He also said that the selection of a manager or director of the department by a Mayor who might be antagonistic to the best interests of the community would at once destroy the efficiency of the department.

"Above all," he added, "it would be a way of getting this department into politics. From its inception it has been the purpose to keep it entirely free from the excitement of political times or the influence that might affect it by being too closely related to the other departments of the city."

ONE FAVORS IT.

Resolutions favoring the adoption of the new charter were passed yesterday by the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. L. L. Liston selected a broom in preference to a revolver with which to frighten away two burglars who were attempting to enter her hotel, No. 482 1/2 East Fifth street, yesterday. She showed the bristles of the broom into the face of one of the Mexicans, hit the other over the head with the handle, and then grasped the coat of one of the men as they were fleeing in complete rout.

The intruder was so frightened by the assault with the broom that he wiggled from his coat and left it with Mrs. Liston as a trophy of the fight.

Mrs. Liston was alone when she detected the pair trying to force their way into a room. She called the clerk on the second floor, notifying him to alarm the police. Then she directed her personal attack. It was so successful the intruders fled before the detectives arrived in a speedy motor car.

Loans That Help

A loan is often a very real help. And a loan from us will prove more helpful than the ordinary kind.

You are allowed a great deal of latitude in repaying a loan from us. You pay a little at a time—some definite amount each month, according to your circumstances. You will find this a sure and easy way to repay a loan and, as the interest decreases with each payment on the principal you will find that in the end you have paid less in interest than you would have had to pay on an ordinary loan.

Our loan folder explains. Call or write for it.

CHRISTMAS MONEY.

"In December of 1907 Webb approached me and asked me if I would like to make a little Christmas money," the witness said. "He told me he would see I was paid well if I would blow up a bridge at Harrison, N. J. I promised to do the work. I pulled off the job on the night of December 24, and for it received $100."

After the first job the succeeding ones were easier to execute, Davis said. Then he related incidents of the next ten explosive jobs, not being permitted to tell of the job set off after October 1, 1910, the date of the destruction of the original Times Building.

When he told of "killing time" in moving picture theaters while waiting for the opportune moment for doing a job, the jurors displayed the keenest interest. "Several times I went into the moving-picture shows, carrying a satchel of dynamite with me," he said. Each time he was toting enough of the explosive to have killed everyone in the theater.

Davis' activities came to an end with his arrest for assaulting the Chief of Police of Fall River, Mass. For that offense he was sent to prison and served nearly three years.

Frank Eckhoff, an ironworker of Pittsburgh, who was intimately acquainted with J. J. McNamara, secretary and treasurer of the International Association, and also of J. R. McNamara, the man who placed the dynamite under the original Times Building, was the next witness.

His story was even more thrilling than that of Davis, but he is a weaker character and it was the opinion of attorneys that he did not make as favorable an impression upon the jury. He has shifting eyes and cringed before the merciless attack of Attorney Coghlan. Davis on the other hand invited anything the attorneys had to say for the defense and was perfectly at ease at all times.

Eckhoff lived near the McNamaras in Cincinnati and talked to them many times about different "jobs." He admitted that every time he promised to set a bomb his nerve failed him and he failed to do it. Once J. R. McNamara offered him $50 to place a bomb under a bridge being constructed by the Riter-Conley Company near the city of St. Louis, but I finally refused," he said.

He told of McNamara taking him to a wood near the city and showing him how the clock attorney set would work. A cap was used in the experiment but no dynamite.

McNamara did the job and he and Eckhoff went to a nearby hill to wait for the explosion. McNamara told me he had set the clock for noon and the explosion went off at 12:01 o'clock," he said.

Eckhoff said McNamara gave him $70 because, he was afraid I would tell on him. Later the two went to Pittsburgh and the following day to Heaver, Pa., where they examined a big bridge that crosses the Ohio River and he said McNamara wanted him to blow up the bridge while a passenger train was crossing it. "He told me it would kill a lot of people but he did not care for that," the witness said.

The witness said that J. J. McNamara tried to induce him to board a train at Pittsburgh and place a bomb under the seat of Miss Mary Dye, who was formerly employed as a stenographer in McNamara's office. "McNamara told me no one would ever know I did it, because I would get off the train and have the bomb set to go off a couple of hours later," he said.

According to Eckhoff, McNamara was afraid Miss Dye knew too much about his dynamiting career and would eventually tell it. Attorney Coghlan tried to establish that McNamara did not want Miss Dye destroyed, that he was merely jealous of her and for that reason employed Eckhoff to follow her. Eckhoff also told of J. R. McNamara receiving orders from his brother to go to the Coast (meaning Los Angeles).

When the State presented A. J. Renee of Leavenworth, Kan., special agent for the Department of Justice, to identify the signatures of all of the dynamiters who were convicted and sent to the Federal prison, objection was made and Judge Willis took the matter under advisement. He will render his decision this morning.

Dist. Atty. Woolwine wants to prove the signatures as they are attached to many letters and other correspondence that passed between the conspirators. The defense bases its objection upon the ground that the signatures offered are at the bottom of pages upon which are the photographs and finger prints of the dynamiters.

Ortie E. McNamara appeared in the courtroom late in the afternoon, but was not called to the witness stand.

Deputy District Attorney Van Cott interrogated Davis while Eckhoff was questioned by Dist. Atty. Woolwine.

... NAB FREIGHT THIEVES.

Two Arraigned Yesterday on Southern Pacific Complaint—Organized Bands of Thieves Operating Along Border, Back Wagons up to Cars.

... As part of a campaign to clean up the thieves who have been stealing freight from Southern Pacific cars, R. L. Parker and Charles A. Leadbetter, alias J. R. Beach, switchmen in the employ of the road, were arraigned before United States Commissioner Hammack yesterday, and committed to the County Jail in default of bond of $2000 each. It is claimed that these men stole three and automobile casings, worth about $100, consigned by the Continental Rubber Company of Erie, Pa., to A. G. Burson of Ventura.

... The arrest of these men marks the beginning of the campaign against freight thieves by Special Officers McShane and O'Connor of the Southern Pacific. They began work at Yuma, last winter, and have since been working west. Since that time twenty arrests have been made at Yuma, Brawley and other points, and thousands of dollars worth of freight recovered.

... Down toward the boundary line, the thieves were so bold that they merely backed up wagons to the cars and carried off the shipments, then made a hurried trip across the border to Mexico and other points. These officers found a great lot of valuable stuff in the custom-house at Mexicali, and the Mexican custom officials there co-operated with them to the fullest extent.

... The local yards have also suffered very severely of late, there having been a regular epidemic of thievery reported. Los Angeles merchants have lost much valuable freight, and shipments sent to other points have been lifted out of the cars bodily. The arrests yesterday were the first in the fight that is to be waged against the marauders, and it is announced that others will speedily find themselves in the clutches of the law.

SAVES HERSELF BY CONFESSION.

Supposed Wife of Millionaire Turns State's Witness.

Tells of Robbing Banker for Taxicab Driver.

But Jury Trying Latter is Unable to Agree.

The mysterious Zola Rapey, alleged to be also Mrs. Zola Caroline Moulton Keetch, wife of a Pittsburgh millionaire, but denying this, managed to secure immunity for herself on the charge of grand larceny by turning State's evidence against Clyde Harrison, a chauffeur, alleged to have received stolen property.

When called to the witness stand in Judge McCormick's court to testify to the connection of Harrison in the robbery of F. D. Lynch, a banker of Delmar, Del., that section of the law was read to her which provides that a person cannot be compelled to testify against himself unless granted immunity from future prosecution.

Hearing this, Mrs. Rapey refused to go on with her story unless guaranteed immunity, which Deputy District Attorney Shelley agreed to after consultation with the court. Having gained her point, she stated that she had been introduced to Banker Lynch by Harrison and had accompanied him to a prominent downtown hotel, supposing that she was to be one of a party of four, including Mr. and Mrs. Harrison.

JUST TO SHOW HIM.

Arriving in the apartments of Banker Lynch she discovered that no one else was coming, and when the visitor said that no woman had ever been able to get anything out of him in the way of money she decided to try it. This she did by abstracting a roll of bills amounting to about $200, his gold watch, chain and other jewelry.

After this she fled, meeting Harrison in front of the hotel in his taxicab. She informed the court that Promised Immunity.

Harrison had driven her to his home and that there she turned over to him all of her spoils. The officers who arrested Harrison found the bulk of the money and the jewelry in his possession, and through this traced the whereabouts of Mrs. Rapey.

During the trial Mrs. Rapey was questioned as to her identity, and when asked whether it was not a fact that she really was Mrs. Keetch, she denied it. Her attorney protested vigorously against questioning along this line, particularly when it was intimated that Mrs. Rapey had already received $10,000 from her husband, William Howard Keetch, son and heir of a Pittsburgh steel magnate.

It was intimated that this sum was only a part of $50,000 which is to be paid the young woman in settlement of her claims and also to guarantee possession of a small boy, son of the younger Mr. Keetch, to the father. The boy at present is in the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Keetch of No. 1511 Westlake avenue.

The trial lasted throughout the day and the jury was instructed to bring in their report this morning. They indicated last night, however, that they are hopelessly disagreed.

ONE WEEK'S PAY.

Thousand Dollars Goes to Engineers for Their Work.

After a short argument yesterday morning the Board of Supervisors authorized payment of the demands of four engineers on the Commission of Sanitation Engineers, who made a preliminary report of necessities for outlining a comprehensive sewer plan for Los Angeles county. Each of the four engineers is to receive $250 for the work of approximately a week.

It was also decided that the engineers should appear before the board next Monday to specify the amount of work which they can do in perfecting a plan in sixty days, instead of using a year to do this in and expending at least $45,000 in their researches.

The majority of the board expressed the suggestion that the county could not afford to pay more than $10,000 for making the plans necessary for the solution of probably the most vital problem confronting the people of the county.

VERDICT POSTPONED.

J. M. Schneider, foreman of the jury in the case of Mrs. Lucy Cavett, against the Pullman Car Company for $25,000 damages, reported to United States District Judge Trippet at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon that the members were unable to agree on a verdict. By stipulation the jury was dismissed for the day and will resume its deliberations this morning.

Trend of the Financial News.

CHIEF EVENTS OF YESTERDAY.

(At Home.) The impending crisis in our relations with Germany served as an excuse for general selling in the "special" list, which, however, was characterized by purely profit-taking by men in high financial circles. The stability of American securities was clearly demonstrated in that none of these were affected by the selling campaign. Recession was general in the munition plant stocks. Bonds were heavy.

(For details see financial pages.)

THE SMELL REMAINS.

It is a not uncommon device with weak-minded delinquents to attempt to escape from an unsavory past by changing their names and environments. But it is not always successful, and it will not be so with the members of the Johnson plumb, who cannot escape from their noxious Progressive record of treachery and trickery by calling themselves "United-Republicans."

"You may squish, you may shatter the couch if you will, but the odor of bedbugs will cling round it still."

AN UNFATHOMED DELEGATION.

If a "United-Republican" delegation should be elected from California to the National Republican Convention at Chicago and should notwithstand their hyphen—be admitted to seats in the convention, still they would amount numerically to but little more than 2 per cent. of the convention and in influence would not amount to a fraction of 1 per cent. thereof. If California shall send a plumed, ring-streaked and speckled delegation to the convention she will probably be the only State in the Union to do so.

A MEMBER OF AN ATTACHE OF A FOREIGN EMBASSY.

A member of an attache of a foreign embassy is, under international law, exempt from arrest or detention on civil process. He may not be compelled to attend court as a witness or even be sued for debt.

But he is not exempt from criminal prosecution for an offense against the laws of the country to which he is accredited in a diplomatic capacity, and the demand of the German Ambassador, Von Bernstorff, for the release of Von Helldorf, accused of violating our laws by plotting to procure the destruction of the Welland Canal, is an unwarranted, not to say an impudent, demand.

IT HAPPENED.

The Express says: "It happens that in California the Taft electors received less than 4000 votes."

This was because it "happened" that the Johnson plunderbund, by a very dirty trick, prevented the names of the Taft electors from being printed on the official ballot.

Other things have "happened." It "happened" that a company of thieves robbed a bank on Boyle Heights. It "happened" that the cook, Jean Cronos, poisoned the soup at the banquet to Archbishop Mundelein.

It "happened" that Detective Frisbee extorted $100 from Mrs. Martin, and it "happened" that he got sixty days in the County Jail for it.

The State penitentiary is filled with the result of "happenings" similar in principle to the "happenings" by which the Taft vote in California was reduced to 4000.

A RETROSPECTIVE NOTICE.

The total vote of California in 1910 was 185,652, of which the Republicans cast 177,191, or 45% per cent., the Democrats 154,835, or 43 per cent., and the Socialists and Prohibitionists 53,626, or 8% per cent.

In 1912 the total vote was 673,327, of which the Democrats cast 233,436, or 42 per cent., the Progressives 232,610, or 42 per cent., the Socialists and Prohibitionists 102,867, or 15% per cent., and the Republicans 99,414, or a fraction over one-half of one per cent.

As the Democratic percentage of the whole vote was 1 per cent. less in 1912 than in 1910 it follows that it was not increased by the Republican vote, and that the Republicans gave the larger part of their vote to the Progressives, a considerable portion to the Socialists and Prohibitionists, and a great many refrained from voting.

In 1914 the total vote increased to 926,754. The Progressives polled 460,495, or about 50 per cent., the Republicans 271,990, or about 29 per cent., the Democrats 116,361, or not 12 per cent., and the Socialists and Prohibitionists 8 per cent.

These figures demonstrate that the Democratic vote remained about stationary in 1910 and 1912 and slumped over 50 per cent. in actual count, and over 50 per cent. in percentage, in 1914.

The Republican vote in 1910 was 177,191. In 1912 it disappeared. In 1914 it was 271,990. Where did it go in 1912? Not certainly to the Democrats, for their vote was no larger in percentage in 1912 than it was in 1910. The statement of a steamed contemporary that the Old Guard voted for Wilson, sustained as it is by arithmetic jugglery, is an illustration of the remark of King Solomon or some other wise man that while figures won't lie, liars will figure.

Some of these days there will be a singer exploited in this country whose only claim to fame is not that she sang to the boys in the trenches.

A SOLEMN CRISIS—A WAY OUT.

President Wilson yesterday read to Congress in joint session the most important state document that has emanated from the White House since Abraham Lincoln's proclamation that followed the assault on Sumter.

An ultimatum is an ultimatum. When used by one nation in a formal address to another it does not necessarily mean that an armed conflict is to follow, but it spells the war, and the instances are few in the history of the world when the clash of arms and the death of thousands on the field of battle have not followed an ultimatum.

It is impossible to sever diplomatic relations without severing economic, commercial, social and friendly relations, and it is difficult to sever them without accompanying such severance with tremendous preparation for battle on land and sea.

We have no cause of quarrel with Germany except what she has wantonily and wickedly and unnecessarily given us. She has deliberately and repeatedly violated the law of nations and defied the law of humanity.

In the controversy between us she has been altogether wrong and we have been altogether right. The proclamation of the Kaiser of March 1 in which he announced the intention of his government to do openly as a measure of German policy what it had done for nineteen months as a German practice—sink without warning unarmed merchantmen with their freight of human beings, whether the passengers were belligerents or neutrals, enemies or friends, men or women, was a proclamation carefully considered, deliberately promulgated and followed promptly by the atrocities threatened.

We may not hope that Germany will abandon the position she has taken. There will probably be diplomatic notes and parleys but there will be no abandonment of the German campaign of terrorism against the allies and against the world.

And what then? Can we confine the consequences to recalling our Minister and Consul and giving the German Minister and Consul their passports and excluding German ships and German goods from our ports and refusing henceforth to have lot or commerce with this cruel and relentless power? Can we submit to have American citizens assassinated and undertake no measure in their defense?

Americans do not want war. We deprecate it and will do all that honorable men can do to avoid it. But though forbearing we are not fearful. The history of our country and the example of our fathers call upon us. The flag that sometimes knew disaster but never knew defeat is flying from mast and steeple. "God and the right" is our slogan. The voice of faction will be hushed to silence and one hundred millions of the brightest, bravest and truest people on earth will stand behind their President, if the dread conflict shall come.

The Times does not believe we shall have war with Germany. There is a way out of it—and The Times believes that both Germany and the United States will find it. The attitude of Congress encourages hopefulness. There will be no rash, impulsive action. There will be no declaration of war by Congress for political effect, or to pull England's chestnuts out of the fire.

SUBMARINE WARFARE.

It has been assumed that Great Britain has been able to maintain supremacy on the sea because of her dreadnaughts. The fact is that she has not maintained supremacy on the sea at all and the further fact is that not a single dreadnaught has been engaged in a naval battle. The only engagement of British dreadnaughts was not with German dreadnaughts but was at the Dardanelles with land batteries and with submarines and as a result six dreadnaughts with their entombed crews went to the bottom of the sea.

Great Britain's thirty-three dreadnaughts have made it expedient for Germany's twenty dreadnaughts not to venture out of their harbors and Germany's submarines have discouraged British dreadnaughts from attempting to sail the ocean blue.

Because of mines and submarines neither the British nor the German dreadnaughts dare venture out of their protected harbors. They are substantially bottled up. The swift British cruiser carrying long range guns has been able by keeping outside of the submarine-infested zone to accomplish something in the way of selling neutral vessels suspected of carrying food to German noncombatants, but so far as British dreadnaughts or German dreadnaughts are concerned the submarines have made junk of them.

John Randolph once said: "Give the tiger the properties of the shark and the shark the properties of the tiger and mankind will not be safe either on sea or land."

The German undersea craft have demonstrated their awful potency as a destructive agency on the ocean. They have made it clear that on the water as on the land war is hell, and so long as hell exists, as the means of settling international differences or of satisfying international greed these instruments of hell will be used.

We have had in the present war no instance where:—

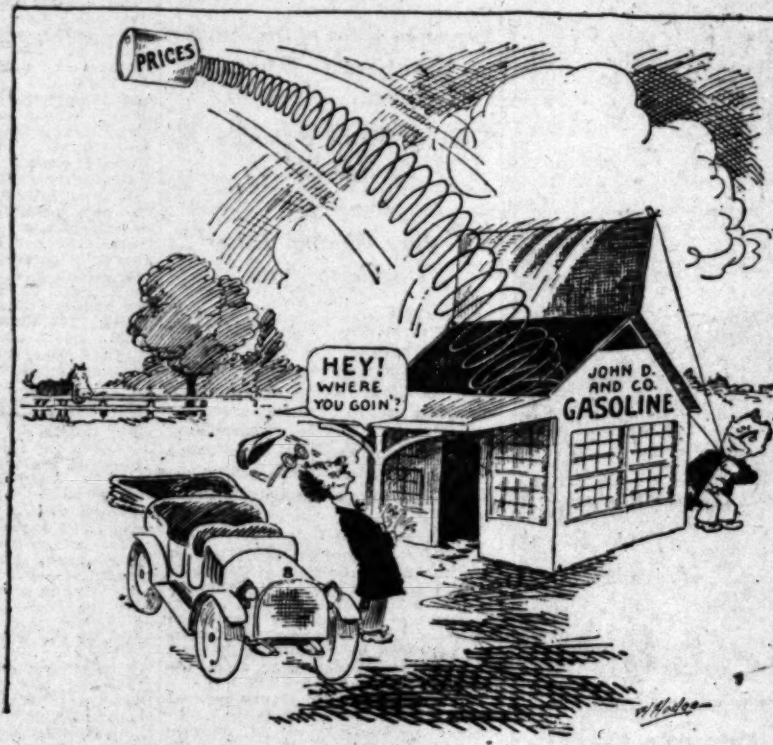

"The frightened waves rushed wildly back before the broadsides reeling rick."

There has been no overseas battle between dreadnaughts, and no undersea battle. On the sea it has been a war of assassination rather than of manly conflict. In submarine warfare there is no opportunity for the exhibition of chivalry or courage or magnanimity. It develops cowardice and cruelty. It ranks with well poisoning and the distribution of disease germs, and while the use of submarines by one nation makes it necessary for all nations to construct and use them for harbor defense, the kind of naval heroes they educate and develop are not such as will add renown to any nation.

Hitherto every invention in instruments of war has been speedily followed by a counter invention in means of resistance. Guns of greater power have been followed with armor plate of greater capacity of resistance, but against the submarine the genius of resistance seems paralyzed.

"Why is it," asks Senator McCumber, "that no simple device which could be attached to a vessel to find a mine and explode it before the vessel proper has reached it has not been invented?" This is a question to which we have had no satisfactory answer. But the most important of all, and one which demands most speedy solution, is some proper method of coping with this undersea destroyer, either by such contrivance as shall shield the vessel from its torpedo or one that shall make the life of the undersea craft more hazardous than that of its present helpless victims.

If this is not done the commerce of no nation in the world can long survive these rapidly-increasing serpents of the sea, whose unseen stroke is death and against which no vigilance can guard. The number of vessels already destroyed by submarines is greater than the number of merchant vessels in the marine or most of the maritime nations of the world.

The use of the submarine should be confined to harbor defense only and to attacks upon vessels of war. The use that Germany has made, and is now making, of it as a means for destroying without warning unarmed merchant vessels on the high seas is worse than the privateering which the nations have by agreement abolished, worse than piracy which has been discontinued. Whatever else shall be done or left undone, submarine activity, as conducted by Germany, ought to come to an immediate end.

SAVING THE CONVERTED.

In the summer of 1912 a number of misguided men broke away from the Republican party, fatuously christened themselves "Progressives" or "Bull Moose" and accepted the leadership of Theodore Roosevelt. After this disastrous split in the Republican party brought the country to the verge of bankruptcy—from which it was only saved by the bigger split in Europe—a glorious opportunity was given to the real Republicans to show the erring ones the folly of their ways. To convey the instruction and to drive the moral home the regulars were unwillingly but effectively aided by the wholesale errors in foreign and domestic policy perpetrated by the over-confident Democrats. An illustration in cold facts of what their defection had brought about, coupled with the admonitions and advice of the old Republican leaders, finally brought back the wandering Progressives into the true fold.

They have been converted. But all of them have not yet been saved, and to the task of saving completely those whose conversion may have been only skin deep the Republican party must devote its unrestrained energies if the result the country requires and expects is to crown their efforts at the national convention.

There can be no hyphenated Republicanism any more than there can be any hyphenated Americanism. The Roosevelt minority must be willing to co-operate loyally with the stalwart majority for the single good of the party. Roosevelt himself has just demanded of all foreign-born citizens that they sink all sympathy or thought or feeling for the countries of their birth and stand solely, first, last and all the time for the country of their adoption.

Very good. Now let him set them an example of this loyalty and devotion by conducting himself as a true Republican, taken back as such without any hyphen into the party councils, or else stay out of the party altogether.

This is no time for division either in national or party affairs. We are passing through an epochal world crisis in which America must play a leading part, and the worthy part that America will play depends on the loyalty of all Republicans to the time-honored principles that have always guided the course of the great historic party. Otherwise we must be prepared to leave the direction of her destinies during this world crisis in fumbling Democratic hands.

We are glad, of course, that the Progressives have been converted, and we believe that the minority will abide by the choice of the majority in the coming convention. We do not anticipate any stampede or any attempt by the most hide-bound of the old Progressives to commit this country again to the bungling provincialism of a Democratic administration.

Thank heaven, the spirit displayed by a small minority of Johnson machine-made politicians in California is not the spirit of the Republican party. At the same time we must remark that conversion is not salvation. There is work ahead for the Republican leaders, hard, persistent labor! Above all, having in view the unparalleled importance of the events of the next four years on the future, not only of our own country, but of every nation on earth, it is vital that the Republican party put patriotism before politics and see to it that the mantle of Lincoln and McKinley shall fall on shoulders of a leader such as these two greatest of Republicans would themselves have chosen.

"DRY" STATE DIVORCES.

Prohibition Maine seems to be the standard-bearer of the Union in the number of divorces, judging from the annual report of Dr. A. G. Young, State Registrar of Vital Statistics, published in the Portland (Me.) Evening Express of February 25, 1916:

"During the past year 1092 divorces were decreed in the State, one for every six marriages solemnized. Some of the causes for which divorces were granted are as follows: Adultery, 147, or 13.5 per cent. of the whole number; cruelty, 34, or 3.1 per cent.; desertion, 131, or 12 per cent.; intoxication, 57, or 5.2 per cent.; cruel and abusive treatment, 333, or 30.5 per cent.; non-support, 48, or 4.4 per cent. The other divorces were granted for multiple or associated causes."

"The wife was the libellant in 738 divorces and the husband in 304; in the divorces granted for adultery the husband was the libellant ninety-five times and the wife fifty-two times; on account of cruelty the wife was the libellant in twenty-eight cases and the husband in six cases; for intoxication the husband was the libellant in sixty-five instances and the wife in fifty-four cases."

That is certainly not a brilliant showing for prohibition in the way of promoting domestic harmony. The number of cases where drunkenness was the ground for divorce, in the case of wives as well as husbands, is instructive while considering the degree to which prohibition prohibits.

"Dry" Georgia seems to be running a close second to "dry" Maine. Under the heading "Warning Sounded on Divorce Perils" Judge W. D. Ellis of the Fulton County Superior Court is quoted in the Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution of March 20, 1916, as saying:

"If the divorce epidemic is not checked in Georgia it will eventually precipitate legalized 'free love' and trial marriages. The man—or the woman, either, so far as that matters—will be able to go to the one he proposes to marry and say: 'We don't know how this thing will run out. It is foolish to take a risk. Suppose we experiment for six months or a year and then, if the experiment succeeds, we can make our union permanent!' And the poor woman, unable to do anything but follow in the steps of love, and with all the multitude of divorce precedents before her, will be helpless to do anything else but take chances, depending only on her love to win and keep the man for whom she cares."

Judge Ellis, whom the Constitution describes as one of Georgia's ablest lawyers and a recognized authority on divorce conditions, proposes legislation to check the growth of divorces. The paper says that since January 1 there have been filed in the Superior Court the record number of 101 appeals for total divorces (the next largest was eighty-odd) and that there are 160 undefended divorce cases on the April docket already.

Evidently prohibition and domestic bliss are not closely co-ordinated in "dry" Georgia. The trouble is the "dry" States are not "dry."

A Wonderful Machine Gun.

[Tit-bit:] Referring to our recent article on machine guns, a sergeant in the Australian forces sends us some interesting facts concerning the latest machine gun adopted by the British War Office. It is known as the Caldwell machine gun, being named after its inventor, a mechanic of Victoria, Australia. It can fire at the rate of 1000 shot per minute (it is said the speed has been increased to 1800 shots per minute); has two barrels, which can be fired independently of the other, and it is air cooled, which does away with the necessity for carrying water to cool the barrel while working.

Caldwell, according to our correspondent, sold the patent rights of this gun early this year to the War Office for the sum of £65,000 and £5 royalty on each gun manufactured, and has been appointed manager of the workshops where they are turned out, at a salary of £1000 a year.

"The Man."

What care I how poor he be? A hundred pounds will marry me."

What's in a salary, anyhow, so long as the man can write poetry, dance well and feel at home in the theater?

An unnamed girl in the College of Nursing asks the question in the course of her plans and specifications of an ideal man. Of course, this singer of songs and devotee of Terpsichore must be an Apollo with broad shoulders and black hair, and he must be an American-born. Further deponent sayeth not.

Salary? Oh, $600 a year will do. That's incidental. An atmosphere of romance will make up for lack of full treasury.

STREAKS OF WIT.

Spurred Up the Doctor.

[Minneapolis Journal:] District Visitor: And how are you today, Mrs. Jones?

Patient: Not at all badly, thank you, ma'am. The doctor is doing his best. I've told him there will be no body to pay him unless I get well.

A Martinet.

[Boston Transcript:] Friend: Your wife seems to have a remarkable constitution.

Mock: She has; and you should see her bylaws, rules and regulations.

Heard at a Reception.

[Boston Transcript:] "Is Alice musical?"

"No, but she always sings if you ask her."

The Ruling Passion.

[London Opinion:] Nephew (relating experience): The commanding officer asked me to make an advance on Dead Horse Farm.

Uncle: How much was it worth?

Nephew: What?

Uncle: Dis farm he wanted an advance on.

Afraid of It.

[Washington Star:] "Does your husband believe in prohibition?"

"About the same as he does in ghosts. He admits that there might be such a thing, and the mention of it scares him dreadfully."

A Friend of Preparedness.

[Detroit Free Press:] As he crawled out of the wreck of his auto a solicitous friend asked: "Are you covered?"

"Yes," he said sadly, "with mud, blood, chagrin and insurance. Is that enough?"

Burn the Booklets.

[Kansas City Journal:] "The Agricultural Department is sending out booklets cautioning people that there is a scarcity in the fuel supply."

"The booklets may help to rectify that."

A Fond Memory.

[Puck:] Nounette: This is my newest dress; how do you like it?

Gabrielle: It's beautiful; I had one exactly like it last year.

The Summer Agony.

[Life:] "Where is your wife going this summer?"

"She is looking around for some place where none of the women have more than two gowns. She has three."

Correct.

[Cornell Widow:] She (pointing to a noted blood-sucking man): Who is that distinguished-looking man?

He: Oh, that's only a circulation manager.

Beginning at the Top.

[Dallas News:] Head of Business: What position do you desire in our establishment, sir?

College Graduate: Oh, something like confidential adviser or general manager.

Head of Business: Good! You may have both jobs. I will make you an office boy.

On Her Guard.

[Florida Times-Union:] "Alice, if I told you that I loved you dearly, that there was no other girl in the world for me, would you promise to be mine?"

"Would you mind telling me first whether that is a proposal or a hypothetical question?"

Some Compensation.

[Boston Transcript:] Mrs. Owens: I wonder if the doctor's wife meant anything personal just now.

Owens: What did she say?

Mrs. Owens: She said we might at least pay a visit?

A Poor Loan.

[Pittsburgh Post:] "Why did she quit society?" I thought she claimed to "lend distinction to it."

Mrs. Owens: She lent distinction. But she doesn't seem to collect any interest."

RIPPLING RHYMES.

TOMORROW.

Perhaps there'll be sunshine tomorrow; today things are dismal and grim; my cup and my saucer of sorrow are bitter and full to the brim. What comfort a fellow can borrow when life seems depressing and gray by betting his hat that tomorrow will be quite a change from today. Today it is sloppy and muddy, today there is water to burn, and I'm grousing here in my study, and using such language as "dern." The rain, it is sobbing and wailing, the wind mauls us with a moan; and I, who had planned to go fishing, look out at the climate and groan. I weep as I empty the chalice of bitterness down to the dregs; for if I went fishing, with malice rheumatics would camp in my legs. But there will be sunshine tomorrow, the skies will be glittering blue. There's nothing so transient as sorrow when once we remark to it "Shoo!"

WALT MASON.

Reassured.

[Houston Chronicle:] Jenkins was always trying to borrow money, and his friends had begun to avoid him.

One morning he tackled an acquaintance in the street before the latter had a chance to escape.

"I say, old man," began Jenkins, "I'm in a terrible fix. I want some money badly, and I haven't the slightest idea where on earth I'm going to get it from."

"Glad to hear it, my boy," returned the other promptly. "I was afraid that you might have an idea you could borrow it from me."

Consoling.

[Penn State Froth:] Nervous Passenger: My, oh, my, isn't the train going at a fearful rate?

Old Lady (in the rear): Yes, deedy. My boy, Jimmie, is engineer on this train, and he certainly can make her spin when he gets a drop too much in him.

CORRECTIVE STRAFING.

BY ALMA WHITEAKER.

When Hercules was asked what services he rendered to his fellow gods, he replied that he gave them a thrashing when they needed it.

When even the gods obviously need an occasional thrashing, what is the use of preaching brotherly love and eternal peace? All of us need an occasional licking—and some of us get it. We don't get nearly as much as would be well for our morals and characters.

Dr. Locke, replying to a query as to why he did not bring the terrors of hell more poignantly before his sinful congregation, assured us that there was less preaching about hell nowadays because the interpretation of truth had changed, that all references to a lake of fire were not accepted as purely figurative. He declared that there was a hell, but it is here and now, very much in the present.

But after a discourse along these lines he added, "When we get the present bells rung that there will be no need of future places of punishment."

To an entirely illogical female mind it would seem to be the other way round. If we manage to make this world an Eden and abolish all forms of earthly hell, the good old-fashioned kind will be in urgent need of revival. If we manage to acquire our full share of chastisement in this world, there is hope for us. But if we get usaddly dodged if the public will get us and we'd better watch out.

Now, there is probably less hell in this country than in any other of this world at present. There is in California, particularly, are prepared to proclaim that we live in a little heaven all our own, upon which all the blessings have been showered. And we must know very well, if we dare to indulge in a little introspection, that we certainly don't deserve it.

Doubtless it is this inner consciousness of ours that makes us all so heartily co-operate in offsetting the heaviness. We are apt to make a supreme and silly mistake so often to concentrate attention on our sinners. Here in Los Angeles we even have to create sins out of mild little habits, search out sin like a prospector seeks for gold. When we find anything that could be made a masterpiece as a sin with a little reformatory excitement, we hasten to drag it into public view and pass ordinances on it.

And of course, California has the right idea. Since it is pretty well accepted that we cannot go to hell it is essential that we make hell come to us. Being conscientiously convinced that a certain amount of hell is our due, we generously undertake to see that the other fellow gets his.

The trouble with Europe was that they failed to seek out their sins and duly damn them as they went along. Many a man who would have been regarded as a fiend of iniquity in California was regarded as a respectable, moral example in Europe. Naturally, something drastic had to be done in a case like that, hell after death having been successfully abolished, and as the people refused to pass the necessary ordinances, Hercules, with the aid of Mars, hastened to get in some formidable strafing.

The United States is not unmindful of the lesson. Hell, being essentially a place of eternal thirst, the Prohibition party is working with it. Having observed that part of Europe's present hell was an almost immediate infliction of prohibition, they doubtless feel that if we voluntarily adopt that part of the strafe we may be able to dodge the rest, which is more expensive, and even more uncomfortable.

Webster defines hell as "the place of dead or departed souls." And there is nothing quite so unsatisfactory as being dead or departed. Our method of current earthly hell is also a compromise. With alcohol, tobacco, gambling, prize fighting, joy riding, fashions, dancing, and adequate qualifications of doctors abolished, we shall be only half dead. And the sterilization of criminals and feeble-minded will adequately prevent the other half of us being born.

One way and another, the outlook is quite encouraging if a little tame. But we all ought to be cared for. The aforesaid abolitions by no means affect us all. Quite a lot of people have no worse sins than gum-chewing, half-baked musical attainment, golf, a predilection for inflicting postcard albums upon us, stomachs and descriptive yearnings thereon, a penchant for giving reception teas, shaving their necks and wearing made ties, writing inferior poems and novels, selling things one doesn't want, political aspirations, the explanatory habit, and imperfect off-spring—since which we duly condemn but do not feel called upon to strafe; hence, chastising the criminals that just measure of current hell in serial form. These people ought to be cared for. Where is Hercules? If these people and their hell-needs are ignored with selfish unconcern in this life, what is to become of them in the next?

Our duty is plain. Having made a bargain compromise with hell we must do our part. It is sheer optimism to declare that every man gets his hell as he goes along. Nothing of the kind! So far a mere handful of us are adequately provided for. The matter will be taken out of our hands if we cannot become more efficient in hell-raising. Let it be through us. A thousand little distinctive hell are still directly needed. Our one councilwoman has started nobly on the roller towels and the cockadoodledoes, but so much hell is still necessary. Give us all a chance. Let us each strafe our pet sinners. The electorate having endorsed the necessity for corrective strafing, let us see the thing through to its logical finish. And the devil take the hindmost.

MUSICAL

In the Mood.
PAINTS VIVID PICTURE.

HOFMANN SINGULARLY ATTUNE TO SCHUMANN SPELL.

By Edwin Schellert.

The names of Walter Damrosch, conductor of the New York symphony orchestra, and Josef Hofmann, master pianist, will doubtless remain linked together for many a day in the memories of those who were present at the second concert given here by the famous instrumental organization and its soloist yesterday afternoon at Trinity Auditorium. It was a case where two musical geniuses, each in his own way, made their efforts to the presentation of a picture of intense and lifelike quality, where free rein was given to the muse of poetry. This was expressed in its fullness in the Schumann Concerto in minor, the concerto among the most masterfully molded compositions of the type and affords a most complete opportunity not only for the display of virtuosity, but the conveying of a deeper soul message as well. This is what makes it far and away superior to the Rubinstein work heard the evening before.

And when you think of Schumann, you can imagine any one more fitted to interpret his fascinating romances than the Masked Marvel, who, in a minor way, was a great drama in the making, and the director there were looking for a type to portray the principal role, after the fashion that has become so popular in the photographic world, I am certain that would unhesitatingly choose the Masked Marvel.

Artistic interpreter that he is, Hofmann made the love-lives of the themes in the work vividly come before the audience, and the Masked Marvel touched with sparkling wit and wit, which appeared as a delightful animated picture throughout the performance. The technical demands which are almost unending, were forgotten in the poetry of the work. The cadenza at the end of the first movement was the full-blown display of the virtuosity of all that had gone before, and like the brilliant movement of the finale and the beautiful opening of the first and second movements, a crowning moment of the work.

GREAT OVATION.

The applause was unreserved and the close of the number. Not a sound came from the audience, and the Masked Marvel, who had been so full of life and energy, was now a statue.

GREEK CHAMPION LICKS THE MASKED WRESTLER

Arguments in Marvel's Forearm are Busted and He Quits.

Minutes of Wrestling Result in a Victory for the Greek—Arguments are Numerous All the Way Through and the Masked Marvel Wants Another Match at the Greek.

CARDINAL BIG GAME KNOCKED.

(BY A. P. MIGHT WIRE.)

STANFORD UNIVERSITY

(Cal.) April 19.—Stanford University students today had abandoned almost all hope for the "big game" with the University of California this year, for yesterday President Ray Lyman Wilbur in a statement declared that Stanford would not give up the Stanford football game for the American code sport as long as California maintained its expensive coaching system. The Stanford executive stated that the system of paying high salaries to coaches was one of the evils that led the two universities to give up the American game in 1905.

The two went to the mat, and the Greek was on top. He stayed there most of the evening. Many a half-nelson and two or three hammerlocks he started on the Marvel, but the latter broke them all by rubbing the Greek's nose and straight-arming him. For some reason Kaveris wanted his face left alone, and he would gladly drop any hold to avoid spoiling his mush.

Once during the match it looked as if the Marvel might have won. By twisting and squirming, he slipped around on top of the Greek and put the toe hold on him. The Greek squeaked like a mouse caught in a trap, rolled half over on his back and grunted. By roughing the Marvel around the head the hold was broken. About all the defeated one could do was rough the powerful Greek and jam fingers in his face.

Toward the end the Marvel seemed to be weakening, and just before the fatal hold his shoulders came near touching the ground twice. In each instance he jerked loose while Dan McLeod had the whistle in his mouth ready to toot the fall.

MORE SCRAPPING.

After the match was over more wrangling followed. The Masked Marvel took off his mask and challenged the Greek to wrestle again and offered to wager on the outcome. His only request was that the Greek wear shoes and trunks. The Greek said that he would gladly meet the Marvel again, but that he did not care to bet.

Before the match Tony Ball threw a terrible Turk twice by reverse nelsons and a body scissors. The Turk was a sad-looking brown man with a big scar on his shoulders which was pointed out by the announcer as a bullet wound received while fighting in the trenches. He was supposed to just have arrived in town. He will remember the well-known Bill Reuss's Pope-Hartford II is All Dolled up and Ready to Hit the Water—Nifty Little Motorboat Taugus is Anxious to Tackle the Fastest.

CHIEFS BUSY PUTTING BOATS IN SHAPE FOR SEASON.

Anybody who doubts that the yachting and motor boat season is not on deck only has to take a stroll along the inner harbor. All of the famous yachts and motor boats are in dry dock and are being overhauled.

Crews are busy putting on new coats of paint, the sails are being patched up or replaced, the barnacles are being scratched off the hulls. But there will be more than the old familiar yaws and motor boats in San Pedro harbor this season. One glance into Joe Fellows's workshop stacked smack up against the harbor will show that.

MANY OF 'EM.

So many boats are being made that there is not enough shed to store them. In the building, men are working over skeletons of structures and out in the yard more men are building other boats, while in a little outside hut, off to the left, two experts are building what will be two of the fastest motor boats on the coast.

Out on the ways Bill Reuss's Pope-Hartford II has just received a new coat of paint and is ready to be slid down into the water for a fresh start in life. Near by the Columbine stands, still to be overhauled. Cracks in the rudder have to be mended, little warps attended to in many places and a new coat of paint all over. In the ocean the Columbine is one of the prettiest and fastest of yachts. On the ways yesterday, stripped of its sail and all exposed to the eye, it looked like someone had been trying to rebuild the Home of Troy and had fallen down on the job.

THE TAUUGS.

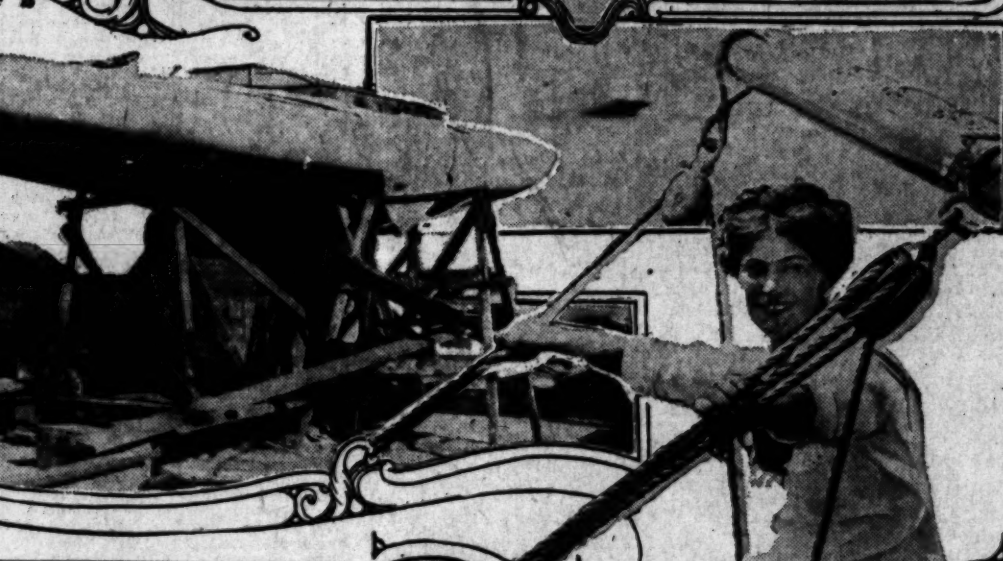

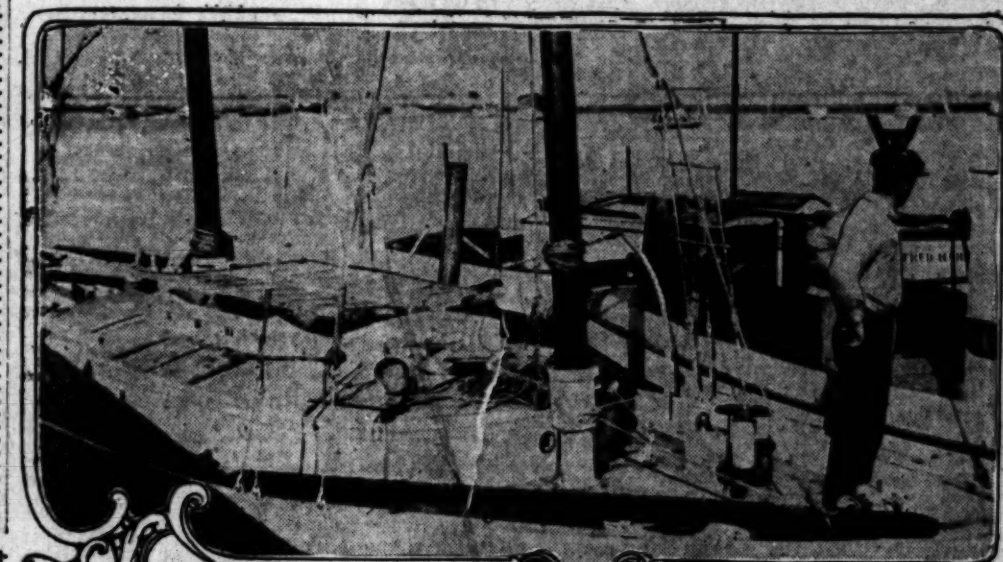

Off the shore at Fellows's landing the fast little motorboat Taugus lay bobbing up and down, while its engine was in the shop being touched up. Through the harbor were many other yachts and schooners with men painting them or washing them, while others lay peacefully at rest with only a Japanese servant moving on their decks.

Fellows says that the coming yachting season is to be largely one of cruises with enough races thrown in to give spice to the summer months. Seal Beach is planning to become the home of motorboat races, and the Motorboat Club will hold numerous affairs off Long Beach.

SOME RACE.

There is likely to be a motorboat race around Catalina Island for the Garbutt trophy. Joe Fellows now has won the magnificent trophy three times and expects to repeat again. In his shop a motorboat is being built which he expects to be as speedy as Bill Reuss's water demon.

It will take two or three more weeks of hard work before the yachts are spunk and span and ready to go skimming across the harbor and out past the breakwater like a bunch of sea gulls floating with the wind.

Getting ready to sail

On the opening day of the local Yacht Club season. The Genevieve, above, and the Columbine, below, are both anchored out in the front yard of the Joe Fellows yacht emporium getting sandpapered, painted, etc. Mrs. V. A. Goodrich, who doesn't seem to care whether the boats are ready for the opening day or not, is really quite an enthusiastic booster of the yachting sport.

SEAL HOPES RUINED BY SERAPH TWIRLER.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

WITH Hogg bringing home the bacon, the Angels enjoyed a very prosperous afternoon. Hogg, who was christened Bradley by fond and loving parents, and who is known in professional circles as "Dixie," proved to be a very smooth article on this his first public appearance in Los Angeles. There were a few trouble spots, but on these occasions fine fielding rendered Hogg more efficient, and he didn't allow a run until a short time for the cows to come home, meaning the last inning. This made the final count 5 to 1 in favor of the Chance crew.

NO LUCK.

Left-handers don't seem to have much luck against the Angels, and Curly Brown was no exception to this rule. They got to Brown for two runs in the third, and when in the midst of this hot inning he came to the surface to blow he found Skipper Wolverton standing near by with the gaff. Poll Peritt then plunged into the seething turmoil, and went through the formality of finishing the game. From time to time the Angels increased their lead at Poll's expense. This was pretty tough on Poll, who isn't a rich man by any means.

Folly McLarry was out of the game embarking his bum leg, and Johnny Butler played second. This seemed like taking a big chance, because if Ed Finney had put Gallows out of the game Butler would have been needed at third. Fortunately Ed didn't molest Jim, but permitted him to follow his peaceful pursuits in the field and at bat. If the umpires feel that they must put a few players out of the game now and then they should tell the managers in advance that they feel the desire coming on them. Then the managers could start the game with the players who are suffering from bum legs and bum arms. After these had been canned the managers would send in their able-bodied men. Undoubtedly the umpires could get just as much satisfaction out of firing the cripples, and this wouldn't spoil the pastime.

Aside from the fact that Hogg al-

Mrs. Pommer Wins Again with 3 and 2 and Looks Like a Serious Contender in Final Rounds—Mrs. McNear and Mrs. Scott Meet in Finals of Second Flight—Defeated Eight Flight Shows Decided Class.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 19.—Mrs. F. F. Carpenter of the Midwick Country Club bade farewell to championship flight competition in the State title play at Ingleside today after a nip and tuck struggle with Mrs. C. F. Ford, Northern California champion. The winning margin of the San Francisco entry was four up and three to play, but this does not entirely represent the closeness of the play. Mrs. Ford required only forty-one strokes on the outward journey of nine holes and anyone that can beat this is qualified to meet the best anywhere.

NICE BALL.

Mrs. Carpenter was driving a nice ball from the tee, but experienced a little bad fortune in her short game. Her putting also suffered a little by comparison with that of her opponent though several of her efforts fell short of the cup by inches or else rimmed it. The match ended on the fifteenth green, where Mrs. Ford took a four, while the Midwick player required five for the hole.

Miss Chesbrough got a glimpse of her true game in her match with Mrs. Douglas Grant. A splendid 43 for the journey out found her 3 up on her opponent, the final nine holes proving a struggle for strokes battle up to the clubhouse green. In retiring from the competition Mrs. Grant can do this with the knowledge that her game will place her very high in California golfdom, and there is promise of considerable improvement in her work.

FINE CLIP.

Mrs. Max Rothschild carried Mrs. Pommer along at a fine clip in their match and before it was finished both women had put on display some better than average golf. Both drove well and though erratic in some cases on the greens recovered from some real trouble at times in finished fashion. Mrs. Pommer finished the morning with a margin of 3 and 2 over her opponent and proved that she will be a dangerous competitor in tomorrow's match against Mrs. Law. Last year's Del Monte champion is best at her short game and it is up on this that her chief reliance will be placed today.

SECOND FLIGHT.

In the second flight, Mrs. F. W. McNear is scheduled to meet Mrs. Laurence I. Scott in the final, while in the third Miss Edith Tyson is due to try conclusions with Mrs. Paul Bancroft. Both matches should be productive of excellent results. The defeated eight competition is down to the semi-finals, with golf in sight that should rival the championship flight.

SNOW MELTING IN YOSEMITE VALLEY.

Although the snow is rapidly disappearing from the Yosemite, David A. Curry writes that it will not be practical for motor cars to make the trip before the middle of next month at the earliest. Although two cars have gone into the valley, they encountered much mud and some snow. At places around the valley the snow is five feet deep, but it is melting rapidly and all snow will have disappeared from the valley itself in a few days.

The higher hills encountered on the trip in will not be free from snow for several weeks and the roads will be wet and muddy in places. Curry has offered a cup for the fastest trip between San Francisco and the Yosemite, but he does not expect any speed trials until June at the earliest. Cars must start from some point where they can be officially checked out in San Francisco or at the Oakland ferry and check in at Camp Curry in the Yosemite.

TENANTS IN COMMON,
NO CASE OF FRAUD.

HUSBAND CAN'T FORECLOSE ON FAMILY HOME.

Couple Separate After Two Years
of Married Life and Make Property
Settlement Which Court
Decrees Must Not be Considered in Nature of a Mortgage.

Owing to incompatibility, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Kidwell separated in 1909, after two years of married life. He gave his wife the house at No. 3663 Hobart boulevard, and took back a mortgage of $2000, under the proposition that they divide the property equally. On the same day they made a contract for the division of all other property.

Mr. Kidwell, who is a consulting engineer, brought suit to foreclose the mortgage. Mrs. Kidwell raised the charge of fraud. Much bitterness crept into the case. Judge Taft, who heard the trial, decided the mortgage and the contract constituted a complete settlement, and held there had been no fraud.

"The mortgage will not be foreclosed," he said, "and the ownership in that property to be tenants in common."

He apportioned a four-sevenths interest to the wife and three-sevenths to the husband, the wife to keep the property until it is disposed of, upon condition that she pay the taxes and charges against it out of the income.

The legal battle was fought by Attorneys Post and Sanders for the husband and the wife respectively.

RETRACTS CHARGE.

When Harry P. Boatman died, January 18, last, he left an insurance policy of $1000, in which his wife, Mrs. Alta Boatman of No. 1055 West Fifty-second street, this city, and his sister, Mrs. Mona B. Moore of Chicago, were to share. Mrs. Moore filed a contest to the probate of the will.

She charged her brother, on information and belief, to be of unsound mind and addicted to intoxicating liquors. Subsequently, Mrs. Moore filed a motion to dismiss the contest, stating she was satisfied she was mistaken and that the will her brother executed was valid.

When the matter came before Judge Rives yesterday, Mrs. Moore was called to the stand and because she had made the charges and then retracted the court declared in so many words that she had no respect for the memory of her dead brother and none for the court.

"It is an outrage," he stated, "and which it was in my power to punish."

SOCIETY FOR THEIR WELFARE

TAKES INITIATIVE.

Proposes that Men be Paid a Reasonable per Diem Compensation for Work and be Allowed Time off Their Sentences for Records of Good Behavior.

Estimates for building a new assembly hall for prisoners at the East Side Jail are being made by local architects, the auditorium to be used by the Prisoners' Friend Society for religious services and entertainment of the prisoners.

A letter by the society to the Board of Police Commissioners has been approved by that body, and will be presented by the commissioners before the City Council today. This asks that legislation be considered for a reasonable per diem compensation for such prisoners as are employed by the city in industrial occupations who make records of exceptionally good conduct while serving their sentences and are given credits of time on their sentences for good behavior and industry as they inspire them to good conduct.

The society is informed by the Chief of Police that he is unable to work all prisoners in the open and on the streets and other useful labor because of a lack of guards. This society suggests that if a system of rewards for good conduct were introduced in the discipline of prisoners, a large portion of prisoners serving short sentences would require little supervision and the expenditure of money in inducements to good conduct would bring results in character by promoting the thoughtless day that would justify the rewards and might obviate the necessity of more guards.

NEW CAFETERIA HEAD.

Mrs. Frances M. Holroyd, who achieved a national reputation through her work as head of the Young Women's Christian Association Cafeteria at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, arrived here yesterday to take charge of the cafeteria of the local association. Since the exposition closed, Mrs. Holroyd has established a cafeteria in New York for the national board of the Y.W.C.A., which will be made the training center for the cafeteria directors of the entire country.

CITY TO JOIN IN COUNTY PAVING.

MANCHESTER AVENUE TO BE IMPROVED AT ONCE.

Supervisors and Public Works Committee of the Council Agree to Pave Two Miles of Thoroughfare—Other Street Work is Authorized by the City.

Following a conference with Supervisor Hineshaw yesterday, Chairman Topham of the Board of Public Works announced that the Council and the Board of Supervisors will start paving immediately to bring about the improvement of Manchester avenue from Moneta to Western avenue. The paving will extend for about two miles along the city and county boundary. In the meantime the paving of Western avenue has been delayed by an agreement on the part of the Council to withhold the ordinance of intention for this work until July 1. Western avenue beyond the city limits will then connect with an excellent roadway to the city.

On recommendation of the Public Works Committee yesterday the Board of Public Works was instructed to proceed forthwith and remove the pole lines and tracks from Exposition boulevard between Vermont avenue and Figueroa street. It is the intention of the Council to clean up this part of Exposition boulevard and make it a real residence district as contemplated by the ordinance passed last year.

Final ordinances were adopted by the Council yesterday for severing the First street and New Hampshire avenue district; for the improvement of Berendo street from Main street to Rosewood avenue; for the improvement of Kenmore avenue from Rosewood avenue to a point 136 feet north of Temple street; and for the improvement of New Hampshire avenue from Rosewood avenue to Oakwood avenue.

Ordinances were also adopted for the improvement of De Longpre avenue and Seward street to Las Palmas avenue and for the improvement of the street between Husted and Avalon streets.

BROADWAY OPENING.

MORE TIME IS GIVEN.

The time for filing the assessments for the opening of Broadway between Pico and Washington streets was extended sixty days by the Council yesterday in order to allow the assessment bureau an opportunity to complete the work properly.

The assessment amounts to $728, $225, and it is being spread over 107 parcels of land included in the assessment district, which extends approximately half-way through the blocks on each side of the proposed street.

Col. Schreiber, head of the assessment bureau, said he hopes to have the assessment completed and ready for review by the Board of Public Works within the next two weeks. When the assessment is made officially by the Board of Public Works it will be forwarded to the Council, and this will be the time for the filing and protest before the assessment is confirmed.

CITY BUSINESS.

MINOR MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

Property owners affected by the improvement of Alessandro street between Reservoir and Montana streets, will appear before the Public Works Committee of the Council today and urge that the proposed change of grade be not made. To date the protests represent a minority of the frontage.

Deadly and given the city to lots in Van Nuys for a branch municipal building was presented to the Council yesterday and referred to the Finance Committee. Investigation of numerous stipulations which may restrict the use of the property to a point where assessments have been asked.

The Council yesterday passed a resolution indorsing plans for a mass meeting to be held at Normal Center tonight, which has been called to protest against gasoline prices, and to discuss the possibility of controlling prices.

FOR WORTHY WORK.

About One Thousand People Participate in Event, Proceeds of Which Will be Used to Furnish Room at Crittenton Home.

Approximately 1000 persons attended the bazaar given yesterday by the Florence Crittenton Home Auxiliary. In The Times Assembly room. The net proceeds, $215, which will be expended in completing and furnishing a room for unfortunate girls in the home at No. 234 East Avenue Thirty-three.

The articles sold were hand-worked handkerchiefs, aprons, dresses, table covers, preserved fruits, jellies and home-made cakes. A luncheon and dinner were given at a moderate charge, which netted a large amount.

The numerous tables were in charge of Mrs. John Wright, Estelle Lawton Lindsey, Mrs. Harold Svenson, Mrs. F. C. Blosser, Mrs. W. A. Brunson, Mrs. Elsie Cogood, Mrs. Dr. Beech, Mrs. F. P. Warren, Mrs. Margaret Mackinnon, Mrs. Gudrin Buchanan, Mrs. A. Grandier, Mrs. E. O. Richardson, and Mrs. Charles L. Higgins. The luncheon and dinner were under the direction of Mrs. John Yates, assisted by Mrs. J. H. Hopkins, and Mrs. John S. Mitchell. Mrs. Frank E. Shaw, assisted by Mrs. Clara Alvarez, had charge of the entertainment.

During the afternoon three solos were rendered by Mrs. Fred Poor, accompanied by Mrs. Walter Reinhardt. Mrs. Lois Gay Wiedoeft gave several violin solos assisted by Miss Grace Wiedoeft. The features of the evening session were the baritone solos by Leon Wines, accompanied by Miss Ardyea Wines. Miss Viola Foster rendered a piano solo and Mrs. James Driscoll gave several soprano solos. The musical programme was under the direction of Mrs. J. H. Ballagh.

LOVE MISSIVES OPEN HER EYES.

What Mrs. Fennessy Found in Her Husband's Pocket.

Handsome Football Coach has Wide Correspondence.

Rich Father-in-law Helps to Win Her a Divorce.

Mrs. Anita C. Fennessy was proud of her husband's good looks and athletic prowess. It pleased her that he was so popular, and especially so for into her unsuspecting mind the thought had not entered that there was something warmer than platonic friendship expressed in the letters he read some of which she mailed for him.

But one day while cleaning his clothes Mrs. Fennessy found a letter in a girl's handwriting. She had begun to ponder over her husband's correspondence with girls. She opened the letter and her eyes were opened. It revealed, she says, a clandestine correspondence of sufficient moment to cause her anguish.

Being wise for her youth, Mrs. Fennessy said nothing, but indicated that she abstracted letters from her husband's pockets, and some of these letters revealed the fact that a mother was anxious to secure him for her daughter. It was not a well-written letter, but it indicated that Frederick A. Fennessy, football coach, college man, son of wealthy parents, did not exercise a little discrimination in his alleged love affairs.

"Listen Fred, why don't you write to me? It seems some time. She soon disgusted because you will live with her. Tell me the truth; you think you get rid of her. You be no more jealous. Please give this on the quiet and send those back. Love Mutt."

Mrs. Fennessy's notes were better couched and more discreet. According to the evidence, he wrote in one: "NEEDS PAPIRIKA."

"Life without love is like salad without paprika."

"I'll get away from me I will commit suicide."

A letter addressed to Miss Gertrude Friede, No. 11 Fairmount avenue, the Salt Lake girl, which Mrs. Fennessy gave his wife to mail, was not written in a platonic spirit. It began: "Dear girl, and I don't think it is wrong to say so. I am going to keep right on loving you, and I don't care if you go away from me. I'll commit suicide."

FATHER DENOUNCES SON.

But Andrew L. Fennessy, the father, had no delusions concerning Frederick A. Fennessy. He wrote his daughter-in-law from Santa Monica, April 1, 1915. The concluding paragraph of the letter, "It is perhaps unfortunate that you or any other poor woman should be bound up to such a lazy, shiftless, good-for-nothing specimen of manhood as your husband appears to be. If he did the work with his hands that I do, I should not be so harassed to provide money to keep him out of the gutter."

It was in evidence that the father sent checks to his daughter-in-law for the rent of their Long Beach home and other expenses. The father's letter was introduced by Attorney F. A. Knight of a Jeweler's block and was read to be Mrs. Fennessy's writing the name and address of a Salt Lake society girl. Inclosed in the letter was a miniature statue and the words: "Have no fear of gossip. The lips that gossip are sealed."

Mrs. Fennessy resides at the Mehevy apartments, Long Beach. She was married in Salt Lake, August 23, 1913. She separated from her husband January 15, last. Her allegations included receiving and writing letters to other women; calling them up on the telephone and indulging in loving talks in his wife's presence; taking them to the theater and picture shows in Long Beach.

Judge Wood granted her a decree and ordered alimony of $25 a month for two years.

WOMAN SAYS MAN SHE WED IS A GAMBLER.

Court Tells Her She's No Right to Claim Over Result of Matrimonial Lottery When Acting with Such Speed in Selecting a Life Partner.

A father rose against his son-in-law in defense of his daughter. What he said to his daughter's husband was repeated in Judge Monroe's court Tuesday when he testified for Mrs. Ethel J. Ellis in her divorce suit against Ernest R. Ellis.

"I had a heart-to-heart talk with my son-in-law," said William Webb, "and he admitted he was a gambler. I told him if he harmed my daughter or led her to do something that was not right, I would see to it. The world was not very large, I told him, and I would find him if he brought harm to my girl."

Mrs. Ellis told some incidents which indicated that her husband was not a gambler of her good name. She said she was married two months after she met Mr. Ellis. She wanted to tell her parents she was married, but he said it was not best that it be known for some time. She continued her work as a stenographer and lived at home.

She said, among other things, that he wanted her to go to Nevada. He was going to take a card sharp along as a partner, and clean up a roll of easy money.

Judge Monroe denied the decree, taking the stand that a woman who would marry a man she had known only two months had no right to claim if she drew a gambler in the lottery.

RISKS WAR ZONE.

Will Send County Money to Germany for Much-needed Drug.

Los Angeles county will risk $754 among the belligerent nations of Europe, in order to obtain a gross of ampullae of neo-salvarsan. The Board of Supervisors Tuesday moved to appropriate this sum for payment in advance for the drug, so essential to the life of some of the blood poison patients at the County Hospital.

The money is to go to Germany, where the specific is manufactured. England has declared an embargo on all money that might reach her belligerent enemy. Backed by affidavits from physicians, county officials and the Chamber of Commerce, it is believed that England will allow the cash to go forward, owing to the humanitarian purpose of the proposed purchase.

AN IMPORTANT DECISION ON REALTY RESTRICTIONS.

Judge Holds that Provision is Contrary to General Policy and Unenforceable Under State and Federal Constitutions—Case
Probably will be Appealed.

A decision of moment, apparently the first to be decided in this State, was handed down by Judge Sheik Tuesday, involving the right to include in a deed a provision restricting the sale of the property described to any person of African descent. The Title Guarantee and Trust Company conveyed to Pauline Kosanofsky, a widow, certain property, incorporating in the deed the following: "Neither the said party of the second part, nor her heirs or assigns, shall or will sell any portion of the said premises to any person of African, Chinese or Japanese descent."

Mrs. Kosanofsky conveyed the property to H. H. Wigger and on the same day the latter conveyed the property to H. L. Garrett, a colored man. The title company contended that the transfer of the property to the colored man was a violation of the condition and brought suit for forfeiture and reconveyance. At the trial numerous cases were cited on both sides. The question presented was one of restraint on alienation of the realty and not one of restrictions on property sold to or acquired by any person.

The court held that the provision of the State of California, the defendant is entitled to acquire property under the State Constitution, and that the restriction was contrary to the general policy of the law, and contrary to the express provisions of Section 711 of the Civil Code, and as such is an unlawful restraint on alienation, but also is unenforceable in the courts under the State and Federal constitutions.

The demurrer to the complaint was sustained without leave to amend, and a temporary restraining order issued dissolved.

In running down the law, a decision bearing on the matter was found to have been given by Judge Brinkine M. Ross with reference to a similar case. The case was decided back to 1290, to the time of Edward the First, and the status of Westminster. Previous to that time answer has been given to the question of the equal protection of the law with all sorts of conditions. The status put an end to that and it applied to everybody except the crown. It was granted, and the case will be taken to the Supreme Court.

Supervisors Discuss Advisability of Changes Which Will Place
These Men Under Civil Service
Provisions of County Charter and Give Them Monthly Stipends.

Court reporters may be placed on regular salary and also under civil service rules in the near future, according to suggestions made yesterday at a meeting of a number of justices of the peace and the Board of Supervisors. The county charter at the present time permits the Supervisors to fix the salaries of all county employees, but in the case of court reporters, jurisdiction has been removed by the fact that the State law empowers the courts to fix the reporter's schedule of rates and imposes upon the Supervisors the duty of paying these.

The matter has been brought to a head by the county have far exceeded their appropriation, according to the reports of County Auditor Lewis. An additional appropriation of $7500 to carry on their work to the end of the fiscal year was granted. Of this sum, approximately $7000 will be necessary for court reporters' fees and transcripts.

If the justices will agree to a re-arrangement of their present schedule of rates which will increase the income of the lower courts and help decrease the expense of the higher courts, the county will be able to pay the court reporters under the county charter provisions.

If the justices cannot agree, the board will introduce a bill at the next session of the Legislature, to bring the reporters and their work within county jurisdiction and under civil service regulation.

May 3 was fixed for the date of another conference in the matter, and it is expected that a number of the court reporters will be on hand to give their side of the argument.

ISSUE NOW UP TO TRAINMEN.

Ripley Says Grab is Basis of Union's Demands.

Beyond Ability of Railroad to Pay, He Declares.

Mediation, no Concessions, is Stand of Carriers.

A willingness to peaceably adjust existing differences between officials of the Santa Fe and members of the four organizations of railway trainmen who have threatened to strike if their demands for additional increases in salary are not met, was indicated Tuesday by President Ripley, who arrived here en route to Chicago, via San Francisco, from his winter home in Santa Barbara. He left the same evening.

"The Santa Fe officials," said he, "are willing at any time to enter into a thorough investigation of all conditions which the employees may declare unsatisfactory. I am sure that a disposition to do this in the past has convinced a majority of our employees of the fair-mindedness of the officials."

"In this present crisis, we reiterate our desire to adjust all differences satisfactorily without resort to harsh measures. If the four organizations, who have made what we consider exorbitant demands, desire that we make a thorough study of the whole subject, we are quite willing to do so. Unfortunately, it seems that the unions are unwilling to meet us half way on this subject. Their representatives appear to have as their viewpoint, in going into a discussion of the matter, 'We must keep all we've got and get as much more as we can grab.' In any investigation of conditions that is made, the railroad officials maintain a right to so state the facts with a different and fairer view."

"The recent demand for more pay aggregates a sum beyond the ability of the railroad to pay. I am sure I do not know what action will be taken, since it is said that there is no more money to be had. It is a very serious situation for the unions among the men. The dissatisfied organizations asked for an answer to their demands prior to April 25. That answer has been given, and it is strictly up to the men as to the next move."

St. Louis Man Sues Retail Grocers' Association for Alleged Libel.

George J. Schulte of the Interstate Grocers' Weekly, a St. Louis trade paper, brought an action for libel in the United States District Court yesterday, against Frank E. Connolly, secretary and director of the California Retail Grocers' and Merchants' Association, and a number of other defendants, including N. E. Wilson of Los Angeles, vice-president of the last-named organization. He asks judgment for $50,000.

It is claimed in the complaint that on July 30, 1915, there appeared in the Retail Grocers' Advocate an article referring in an alleged libelous manner to Schulte, he being termed "The Champion Knocker." He alleges that the defendants were responsible for the article.

Samuel Adler Shoots Himself, Thus Making Good Threat that His Wife, Refusing Reconciliation, Would "Kneel at His Feet" at Last.

Samuel Adler's prophecy that his wife, from whom he was separated, would kneel at his feet, came true yesterday afternoon, but he had to shoot himself to fulfill the prediction.

For twelve years he has been married to Mrs. Sadie Adler, but recent quarrels in the home disrupted the family, and Mrs. Adler announced she intended to get a divorce. She separated from her husband, taking her three children.

Adler had made repeated attempts to effect a reconciliation, to which Mrs. Adler would not agree. Yesterday afternoon he went to his wife's home, No. 919 Boston street, and made another plea. She again was denied. Then Adler said: "You will kneel at my feet before I am dead."

He walked into the yard and shot himself several times through the stomach. When Mrs. Adler heard the shots she rushed to the side of her husband, gave him first aid treatments were possible, and notified the police. Then she returned to her husband and when the police arrived she was on her knees at his feet, begging him to tell her what she could do to help him.

Adler was taken to the Receiving Hospital where a major operation was performed. His condition is grave.

ASKS BIG DAMAGES.

Alleging negligence and resultant permanent disablement in an accident in the Southern Pacific yards, July 10, 1914, the hearing of a suit of W. F. Ellis, a pipefitter, against that road for $50,000 damages, was started yesterday in the court of United States District Judge Trippe. Ellis, who was partially blind in one eye, alleges that the sight of the other eye was seriously affected when iron cylinders were dropped into the eye, while he was lying flat on the ground repairing the coupler of a car. The dislodging of the iron cylinder, he alleges, was due to other employees "pinching" the car ahead.

What Can You Do For Catarrh?

Ask Yourself the Question: How Often has the Doctor Failed as have Ointments, Salves, Vapours? What You Should do.

The easy, common-sense method—that costs so little—that is so quickly and vigorously effective—is often the last resort of many Catarrh sufferers. Why, it is hard to say. One of the specialists of the Swift Specific Company in Atlanta—a physician of standing and national reputation because of his knowledge of blood diseases, made the assertion that if the majority of Catarrh sufferers would buy and faithfully take S. S. S. they could effectually get rid of Catarrh.

S. S. S. goes straight to the seat of trouble, the blood. It spreads its influence over every organ in the body, comes through the veins and arteries, enables the mucous surfaces to excrete acids and irritating substances for red blood corpuscles that effectually cleanse the system and thus put an end to all Catarrhal poison. S. S. S. cleans out the stomach of mucous accumulations, enables only pure, blood-making materials to enter the intestines, combines with these food elements to enter the circulation, and in less than an hour is at work throughout the body in process of purification.

S. S. S. is made from barks, roots and herbs that are food and tonic for the blood. It stimulates—gives the blood power to throw off poisons. You will soon realize its wonderful influence by the absence of headache, a clearing of the air passages, a steadily improved nasal condition, and a sense of bodily relief that proves how completely Catarrh often infests the entire system.

You will find S. S. S. on sale at all drug stores. It is a remarkable remedy for all blood affections, such as Eczema, Rash, Lupus, Tetter, Psoriasis, Boils and all other diseased conditions of the blood. For special advice on any blood disease write The Swift Specific Company, Medical Department, Room 11, Atlanta, Ga. Avoid substitutes.
